

QUALITY & HSE POLICY

ARCONI, a Spanish Company established in 2005, leader in Manufacturing of High Value-Added products for Corrosive Fluids on Piping and Equipment with application on Industrial Construction, Oil & Gas, Petrochemical, Food and Mining Industries, declares:

As a consequence of its Policy regarding Sustainability, ARCONI establishes as its main priorities in Quality and HSE and therefore is committed:

1. To consider Quality and HSE in the Top Management decision-making process.
2. To preserve the Health and Safety of its Employees, Subcontractors and Suppliers, and to protect the Environment through the minimization of risks and the implementation of socially responsible behavior in all ARCONI activities.
3. To establish sustainable Quality and HSE objectives, to be reviewed periodically.
4. To comply with current international and national legislation, applicable standards, and codes, as well as any further requirements that the ARCONI may choose to endorse.
5. To contribute to the sustainable development through the rational use of energy and natural resources, reducing the environmental impact, promoting innovation, reducing waste and using the best available technologies and processes.
6. To deliver to its Clients products and services that meet their expectations and are safe in their operation and maintenance, as well as being environmentally friendly.
7. To promote a continuous improvement through the optimization of the Quality and HSE management, fostering a culture of prevention of hazards and reducing risks in lieu of correction with the aim to provide all its Employees a quality, safe, healthy and environmental-friendly workplace.
8. To spread the knowledge and awareness of Quality and HSE matters to its employees and collaborators, encouraging the consultation and participation of its Employees in decision-making processes on Quality and HSE aspects related to all ARCONI's activities.
9. Provide adequate and continuous training to its Employees and collaborators.
10. To communicate relevant and truthful information about ARCONI activities, performing internal and external audits to ensure its liability and encouraging its continuous improvement.

ARCONI states that its Quality and HSE Policy is understood, implemented, continuously updated, and communicated at every level of the Organization.
